Yes, Cardboard Boxes Are Fun!

By trisha_cm in Playtime Break

You know how small kids love boxes? When they open up a present, they somehow prefer to play with the box it came in rather than the toy that was packed in it! Well, since Muntinlupa has been plastic free since January, we have amassed quite a lot of boxes through our groceries and I thought why not make a toy out of some of them. I found some ideas I think the little one will like and I'll post pics when we're done (hopefully soon). A simple divider coz he likes to play peek-a-boo A long, windy road for his cars and trucks A cooking range coz he loved watching Junior Masterchef read more

Saddest Movie Ever Pinpointed by Science

By kooora in New New

If you ask 100 people what the saddest movie ever would be, you're likely to get 100 different answers... or so you'd think. Perhaps Bambi among Disney fans, or The Crow among goths, or Big Momma's House among people who actually appreciate humor. All would be wrong, however, according to science. A recent delving into sad movies has determined the saddest movie of all time, and none of the above were pinpointed as the most sad movie ever. Smithsonian Magazine wrote about the sad movie study this month, citing data from 1995 wherein scientists made the determination. It turns read more

Casey Anthony Mask Fetches Nearly $1 Million on eBay

By kooora in New New

Apparently the public's thirst for all things related to Casey Anthony knows no bounds as a latex mask resembling the recently acquitted "tot mom" sold on eBay for nearly $1 million. In the item description of the latex Anthony mask, the seller said it was one of only nine "sculpted to precision for a parody video by enigmatic pop artist/sculptor Torro." "Forget Freddy, Jason, Meyers, here's your chance to scare the *#&% out of everyone and win every costume contest with this amazing Tot Mom latex rubber mask, possibly the most frightening mask on the read more

Obama losing battle for Wall Street cash

By kooora in New New

In the battle for Wall Street campaign cash, Mitt Romney is beating Barack Obama. Employees at Goldman Sachs, one of Wall Street's most high profile companies, donated nearly $250,000 to the former Massachusetts governor over the past three months. President Obama raised $127,000 from Goldman for himself and the Democratic National Committee over that same period. In 2008 Obama raised more than a million dollars from Goldman, the single biggest corporate donor to his campaign. The reason for Romney's edge is at least in part due to the relationship he built as a co-founder of Bain Capital, read more

Budget/Debt Ceiling Crisis is Your Fault...Yes, YOU.

By frizbog in 2 Wolves 1 Sheep

I am seeing lots and lots of posts on Facebook and Google Plus and Twitter expressing anger with our masters in Washington for not having come to an agreement yet on what to do about the budget and the debt ceiling. Things to the effect of "let's cut all their salaries and pay off some of the debt!" I understand the emotional appeal here, but really, don't these people understand that a Congressman gets around $150,000 a year, and many of these guys are multi-millionaires? They wouldn't miss the money. Besides, they're not in it for the money, they're in it for the power. Besides, suppose you read more

Gnats Gnot Gnice!

By xanapus in Xanapus` Lair

Several times per week I wake up at 4:30am and leave the house at 5am to go bike riding for exercise. I took this picture at sunrise this morning because I wanted to show off how cool the moon looked with the sun shining on it. Unfortunately my cell phone takes crappy pictures. I took 3 and this one was the best one. But that's not the reason for this post. I love riding almost 23 miles every time I ride but the one thing that I do not like are the gnats. Sometimes I will run into these little buggers. They are so gross lol. I can't see them until they are coming towards my face read more
